MARKET REVIEW

Global REITs (as per EPRA/NAREIT Developed Rental Index Net TR, USD; "Benchmark") closed the month up 4.1% in USD (+4.2% in ZAR), underperforming global equities, which posted a total return of 4.5% and outperforming global bonds which returned 1.1% for the month. UK and European REITs generated the best performance by region, returning +7.6% and +7.4%, respectively. Conversely, Japanese and Hong Kong REITs lagged, with returns of -3.3% and -2.4%, respectively.

Global inflation data shows a mixed picture. Europe, the UK, and Australia reported higher inflation than expected, while the US, Japan, and Canada came in with softer-than-expected figures. The market is expecting interest rate cuts from the European Central Bank (ECB) and the Bank of Canada (BoC) this June. This follows recent cuts by the Swiss National Bank and Sweden's Riksbank, which were the first major central banks to shift towards looser monetary policy.

We saw an abundance of 1Q24 results during the month. UK self-storage REIT, Big Yellow Group (BYG), reported better than expected results. Over April and May like for like (l-f-l) occupancy declines came in at -0.7% y/y versus -2.3% at FY24. Management provided 'informal' 2025 revenue growth guidance of 6%, which exceeded market estimates and implies an inflection point in their operating performance. This led to a 15.6% share price rally and lifted Safestore (SAFE), its closest UK-listed peer, by 16.4% for the month. British Land (BLND) underlying earnings per share (EPS) came in at 28.5, beating expectations by a wide margin. This was driven by strong letting performance as well as cost control. In addition, the company stated that Norges Bank Investment Management (NBIM) bought a 50% stake in Meadowhall Shopping Centre, located in Sheffield, UK, for £360m, 3% above its latest valuation and 7-8% yield. London office developer Great Portland Estate (GPE) launched a fully underwritten rights issue to raise £350m in gross proceeds. The rights issue highlights an inflection point in the cycle, which allows GPE to capitalise on its strong ability to reposition assets. Moreover, management has become a net asset buyer for the first time since 2013. Spanish office REIT, Árima received a takeover bid by JSS Real Estate Socimi at a 39% premium to the prevailing share price. The company has a strong track record in value-add office opportunities, but the current economic climate made it difficult to expand the business. We believe the merger makes sense, and we won't be surprised to see more announcements like this as the year progresses.

Top-line rental growth continues to be robust, as confirmed by Q1 reporting, showing a trend of beating consensus and raising guidance for most sectors. Consequently, our initial expectation for 4% earnings growth for 2024 appears conservative. We continue to expect 5% earnings growth in 2025, which aligns with the long-term average and has a potential upside to our forecasts. Despite recent valuation adjustments, balance sheets remain healthy, with a 35% loan-to-value ratio and a manageable debt maturity profile. Global REITs trade at a 12% discount to net asset value (NAV) and offer a 4.6% dividend yield. Considering these factors, we believe total returns in the region of 11% in USD are reasonable over the next 12 months.

TER AND TRANSACTION COST (INCL. VAT)

Please note: A higher TER ratio does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER cannot be regarded as an indication of future TER's. Transaction Costs are a necessary cost in administering the Fund and impacts Fund returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of Fund, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER. The prior year ("PY") TER and Transaction cost calculations are based upon the portfolio's direct costs for the financial year ended 31 December 2023, whilst the underlying portfolios' ratio and cost calculations are based upon their most recent published figures, being 31 March 2024.
